

Using Commas in Lists

Warm-Up

When writing a list, you should put a comma between each item, except for the last item where you use 'and'.

For example: "I need to go to the supermarket to buy eggs,, milk, bread, sugar and orange juice".

Look at these shopping lists. Can you write a sentence using commas to list what each person is buying at the shops? Can you guess what kind of dish each of these people are making from what is on their list?

- bread
- butter
- jam

Ali is buying

- bananas
- berries
- apple
- orange juice

Zara is buying...

- rice
- spices
- vegetables
- poppadoms

Hailey is buying...

- eggs
- flour
- butter
- sugar

Sadiq is buying...

Can you write your own shopping list for a friend to turn into a sentence with commas?

Look inside these holiday suitcases. Can you write a sentence using commas to list what each of these people are taking on holiday?

Isabelle is taking...

Roshan is taking...

Sahil is taking...

Ada is taking...

Can you guess what kind of holiday each of these people are going from what is in their suitcase?

Can you describe each of these animals using a list of three adjectives? Don't forget to use a comma and the word 'and' so that your description makes sense.

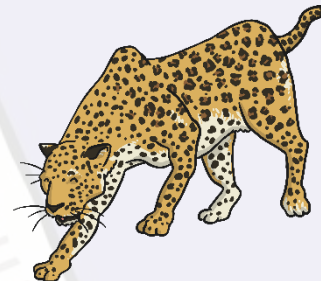

The shark is...

The puppy is...

The guinea pig is...

The leopard is...

Can you write a sentence in two minutes listing more than two things in this picture that you would like to buy? Remember to use commas.

start

Time's up!

I would like to buy...

How many things did you manage to write in your list?

Photo courtesy of Diego Delso (@commons.wikimedia.org) - granted under creative commons licence – attribution

Can you write a sentence in two minutes listing more than two things in this picture that you would like to buy? Remember to use commas.

start

Time's
up!

I would like to buy...

How many things did you manage to write in your list?